KIPP DELTA COLLEGIATE HIGH SCHOOL

The mission of KIPP Delta Collegiate High (DCH) is to prepare students to seek justice and challenge injustice in school, community, and in life. DCH is a public charter school located in Helena, Arkansas. Since the high school opened in 2006, we have graduated over 250 students. The members of the Class of 2019 will be the 10th graduating class from KIPP Delta Collegiate High School.

KIPP DELTA HISTORY

In 2002, KIPP Delta Public Schools opened its doors to eager fifth graders from across Phillips County, Arkansas. We have since expanded to serve over 1,350 students in six schools in three communities—Helena-West Helena, Blytheville, and Forrest City. KIPP Delta’s values are High Expectations, Beyond Z, Humility, and Love & Care.

KIPP ACROSS THE NATION

KIPP has grown from two original schools to a national network of college-preparatory, public charter schools educating elementary, middle, and high school students. KIPP schools are free, public schools, and enrollment is open to all students. There are 224 KIPP schools in 20 states and the District of Columbia educating nearly 90,000 students on their path to and through college, careers, and life. KIPP believes that great teachers and school leaders, a supportive learning environment, and an emphasis on both academics and character are the foundation for student success. KIPP students complete college at a rate that is above the national average for all students and four times higher than that of students from similar economic backgrounds.
